
Doctoral Consortium @ 14th China goes Global Conference

Globalization in the Age of Uncertainty

Simon Fraser University, Jack Austin Center for Asia Pacific Business Studies

Vancouver - Aug 5-7, 2020

The 14th Annual China goes GlobalTM conference will be held at beautiful Vancouver, Simon Fraser University, Beedie School of Business.

Within the pre-conference events, a Doctoral paper development program will be given to early-career researchers, with the purpose of helping them publish the ideas/papers in top peer-reviewed journals.

During the Doctoral Consortium, selected PhD candidates will have the opportunity to attend special speeches by academics and also discuss their work with professors and experts.

The following speakers have already confirmed their participation:

- Prof. Ilan Vertinsky (see <https://www.sauder.ubc.ca/people/ilan-vertinsky>), Area Editor of The Journal of International Business Studies, will talk about the publication process;
- Prof. Ilan Alon (see <https://www.uia.no/en/kk/profil/ilana>), Editor-in-Chief of the International Journal of Emerging Markets and the European Journal of International Management, will talk about how to write for peer review journals.

Other speakers will be invited.

To apply for the Doctoral Consortium, each PhD student needs to send a 2 pages proposal based on Pfaff's Research Template (<http://pitchingresearch.com/guide.html>) where main points, contribution, literature, theory, preliminary results are presented.

Each 3 students will be assigned to 2 mentors for deeper discussion to improve their ideas, quality of research and scientific approach.

PhD candidates who wish to submit their request to join the Doctoral consortium are required to send to spigarelli@unimc.it – by March 15th – the 2 pages template.

Selected candidates will receive confirmation of their participation to the Doctoral Consortium by March 30th.

Indeed, Phd Students might also want to submit their papers to the main Conference at:
